Jagenberg Group at the Battery Show Europe 2024 Integrated portfolio for the future of electrified mobility

By participating in the Battery Show Europe, Jagenberg Group is underlining the importance of the battery and e-vehicle industry and demonstrating its performance: Three companies from the international group of companies are using the event at Messe Stuttgart to present their linked portfolio and integrated solutions for the production of lithium-ion battery cells and fuel cells from June 18 to 20.

Comprehensive solution expertise for electrode production

At stand D26 in hall 10, the companies Jagenberg Converting Solutions (JCS), Kampf LSF and Kampf GmbH will be demonstrating their innovative concept for the production of anode and cathode substrates as well as battery separator and capacitor films.

Jagenberg Converting Solutions acts as a turnkey provider for completely integrated roll-to-roll solutions and combines the services of other specialists. The resulting offer includes a turnkey tandem coating system for electrodes or the individual components combined with it:

- Turret winder and turret unwinder*
- Slitter*
- Coating unit*
- Dryer technology*
- Automation technology*
- CE safety*
- Digitalization.*

Co-exhibiting company Kampf GmbH will be contributing its traditional high-precision slitting and winding technology. Meanwhile, Kampf LSF will be showing state-of-the-art TechWinder turret winders and unwinders.

"With this offer, we are pushing the door wide open to prosperous European battery production," says Thomas Lebbing, Managing Director of Jagenberg Converting Solutions based in Bocholt.

"More and more battery manufacturers are recognizing the need to produce batteries in Europe, as evidenced not least by the gigafactories that are emerging in this country, for whose
